4. Roaming Data Day Pass:

- 4.1. Unless stated otherwise, a Day Pass is deducted each day for each country or region. A day is defined as 00:00 to 23:59 local time of the visiting country (capital) or region.
- 4.2. Unless otherwise specified, Day Passes provide 4G network data usage. For details of the network coverage, please refer to the Company's Mobile App or Website. Day Passes are only deducted on the day when the customer uses the data service. Therefore, the customer does not have to use multiple Day Passes on consecutive dates.
- 4.3. Unless otherwise specified, one Day Pass is deducted for each region visited on the same day. Exception: no more than two Day Passes are deducted each day for European countries.
- 4.4. Unless otherwise specified, the data roaming service is subject to the Fair Usage Policy (FUP). When daily data roaming usage reaches a threshold in a destination, data speeds are capped at 128kbps. However, customers can continue to use data roaming. The "level of fair data usage" refers to the level of fair data usage specified when customers purchase roaming data Day Passes.
- 4.5. Day Passes support the data tethering function, but not peer-to-peer applications (P2P), FTP file sharing and webcam applications.
- 4.6. Day Passes work on mobile phones, tablets, iPads (except the WiFi model) and pocket WiFi devices (WiFi eggs). The actual service performance and data transmission speed may vary due to many factors, including, but not limited to, the network traffic, model of the handset/ device, settings (including device hardware and software), upload/download content and other external factors.
- 4.7. The Company recommends users to disable the software auto-update function, and use free WiFi for activities that require high data usage.
- 4.8. Day Passes data service can be used on networks of operators with which the Company has an agreement for mobile data services. The number and coverage of networks are subject to changes and updates. Please visit the Company's Mobile App or website for more information.
- 4.9. Day Passes must be used within the specified valid period or will otherwise expire.
- 4.10. Customers can add Day Passes. Please refer to the Company's Mobile App or Website for details.
- 4.11. Unless stated otherwise, the Day Pass' validity will be reset to 180 days or updated to the original expiry date (whichever is later) after a new Day Pass is added. All purchased Day Passes will become invalid and a refund will not be given after the mobile telephone services are cancelled.
- 4.12. The Customer must follow the guidelines specified by us on the use of Day Passes. If there are any problems arising from the use of Day Passes, we may arrange a replacement of the Day Passes depending on the circumstances. We reserve the right to make the final decision.
- 4.13. No refund of added Day Passes (including but not limited to Day Passes which have not been used before the expiry date) will be given under any circumstances. We reserve the right to make the final decision in case of disputes.
- 4.14. To ensure all customers receive fair and equitable services at all times, a Fair Usage Policy (FUP) may be in place in accordance with the business practices of the telecommunications service provider (the local in-country wireless network carrier or operator in the roaming region).
- 4.15. If an FUP is in place, the telecommunications service providers commonly apply a cap on the amount of wireless data when an individual customer has exceeded a certain amount of data within a specified time period. Data service continues without speed throttling or data capping, but access to network resources will be given lower priority and data service experience may be affected. It may limit the transfer of a specific amount of data over a period of time, which can result in a slowdown of the connection speed.

- 4.16. Upon excessive usage, the telecommunications service providers may, at any time, cease, suspend or alter the network quality. In this case, the Company shall not intervene. During peak periods (concurrent use of network resources by a large number of users), customers' mobile data experience may be intermittently affected, which shall be alleviated once the usage returns to normal.
- 4.17. Telecommunications service providers reserve the right to change their service models and policies (including FUP) without notice.
- 4.18. No refund or discount will be given by the Company if the above circumstances occur. Termination of service may apply if a customer downloads continuously or if their usage impacts other users.
- 4.19. The use of the Company's products and services are only eligible and limited within the country or region specified. The Company does not guarantee its products and services can be used outside of the specified countries or regions. Any costs incurred from such use would be the sole responsibility of the customer. The use of the Company's services outside Hong Kong may be subject to laws and regulations of the country the customer is visiting. The customer is required to comply with those laws and regulations; the Company is not liable for the customer's non-compliance.
- 4.20. The Company's telecommunications service providers generally have good coverage within their respective countries or regions. However, this may vary according to each national provider's systems (including services and systems beyond the Company's control), especially in remote areas. The Company does not guarantee the continuity and stability of the services.
- 4.21. The availability and coverage of networks varies depending on the customer's location. The quality of the services depends in whole or in part on the customer's mobile phone and mobile device, the network and other factors. If too many people try to use the network at the same time, services may be adversely affected by physical features (such as buildings, mountains etc.) and by atmospheric conditions or other causes of interference.
- 4.22. The Company does not guarantee that connections will not be lost; that the transmission of data will occur at any particular speed or time; that all traffic can or will be transmitted by the network; or that there will be absolute protection of the network against unauthorized access or interception.
